CHANGES AT ASYLUM Burned Portion Reconstructed In First-Ciana Shape,

Waterbury, July 1.—The reconstructpital for the insane is over and in the past two days the patients have been been rebuilt since the fire. These wards, which were burned just before Christmas accommodated 112 men and, with only a few changes, the same ones are back. No accidents have arisen from the complications and it is a matter of congratulation that these patients have been moved, housed and moved back again without any serious trouble,

This part of the building, as recon structed, is the same in general plan as that which was burned, except that it is more modern. It will be remempered that the insurance money of nearly $17,000 was turned at once into the state treasury. The carpenters' work has been done largely by the regular em-ployees of the hospital and the financial part has been met entirely from the au-mual appropriation.
